

Sample questions which could be used to screen patients' digital needs include:

Do you ever go online to access the Internet, such as for online searches, to send or receive email, or to watch shows/movies online? (Yes, No)

Please indicate if you have... (Yes, no, unsure/don't know – answer for all)

- a) a tablet computer (iPad, Samsung Galaxy, Kindle Fire, etc.)
- b) a smartphone (iPhone or Android)
- c) a basic cell phone or "flip phone" (text messages and/or phone calls without Internet/apps)
- d) computer or laptop

Do you have concerns about the cost of connecting to the internet?

- No, have an unlimited data plan
- No, also have wifi/cable internet/DSL set up in my home
- Yes, describe _____

How confident are you in using your smartphone/computer or other device on your own?

- 1 – No confidence, always need help
- 2 – Low confidence, sometimes need help
- 3 – Confident, mostly on my own
- 4 – Extremely confident, always on my own

Developed by Courtney Lyles, PhD

Associate Professor, University of California, San Francisco

UCSF Center for Vulnerable Populations

UCSF Division of General Internal Medicine at Zuckerberg San Francisco General Hospital

UCSF Department of Epidemiology and Biostatistics

@CourtneyRLyles